FIRST EXHIBITION OF THE SALMAGUNDI

There was a private view last evening, at the Leavitt Art Rooms, of the first exhibition of black and white drawings, sketches and etchings, held under the auspices of the Salmagundi Sketch Club. This display, comprising 202 numbers, being a first attempt, is, as a whole, creditable to the club who have it in charge. Its chief fault lies in the work in opaque black and white, painted in the style of drawngs, intended for photographing on the block, which, now ver pleasing their engraved counterparts may be, are in themselves not very attractive. What we ould like to see, and hope to, next year, is a larger proportion of pen and ink drawings-drawings in sepin, transparent india ink wash, and in pencil and etchings. Taken altogether, nowever, the display at present made is exceedingly interesting and contains a good deal of strong work, chiefly by young men, many of whom are yet students. There is many a charming little drawing for an album or for a place on a library or study wall. In our talk about the individual drawings we will take them as they come in the catalogue. C. Osborne's "Retreat" (9) is an excellent, clean and amusing little drawing. His "Psyche and Mercury" (10) is graceful in design and has good work in it. H. P. Walcott's "The Veteran" (12), an amusing character sketch, rather hard in treatment. A. Barry has an etching (13) after Van Marcke. W. H. Shelton shows careful work in his "Old Homestead" (16). A fine little drawing is Miss Fery's charcoal sketch, "A Swiss Lake" (18). F. A. Nyc's "Study of Grasses" (19) is full of detail. "Feeding the Swans" (23) is an effective little drawing by W. P. Snyder. M. T. Burns has in "Fisherman" (25) and in "Waiting" (162) a couple of good Grand Manan sketches. "Young American" (26) is an excellent sketch by T. W. Champney. Miss Fery's etching "Boy" (29) is free in treatment. C. H. Vanderhoft's "Bric-a-Bric" (32) is a pleasing and artistic pen and ink. F. Beilew's "Chasng the Beaver' (33) is amusing. In "Launce and His Dog" (35) H. P. Share has a comical bit, in a style all plog (30) it? State has a comical bit, in a style of pon and ink work, which is very promising, and in his "Gossip l'arty" (124) a good child story. His "Sketch from Nature" (137) is excellent; his "Luck of Koaring Camp," a for treatment of a not plossing motive, and his "Atternoon Nap" is not up to his his "Gossip Paris" (123) a good child story. Has "Sketch from Nature" (137) is excelent; his "Luck of Koaring Camp," a far treatment of a not pleasing motive, and his "Alternoon Nap" is not up to his standard.

The two sketches from life by C. Y. Turner, in the frame No. 38, are excellent. A charming little pen and mk, with a graceful figure, is "Romance" (41), by A. E. Emsile. The lace is good in C. F. luttle's "Breton Peasant Girl" (44). H. P. Walcott's "Waiting" (48) is an amousing character study. In his frame of "Brawings in luk" (49) Thomas Moran has some masterly bits J. S. Hariley's terracetta "A Nibble," is a fine little figure. Good "Sunshine" (55) is F. M. Gregory's. Miss Oakey's is pleasant "Summer Days" (50). "Laying in Peat, I-land of Marken" (57) is a good little study of peasant life by Dewey dates. There is boid, careful work and a pleasing effect in C. Freitag's "Stormy Day Off the Lignizing." Peasic Curtus "Ever Watching" (53) is a fine little sludy of peasant life by Dewey fates. There is boid, careful work and a pleasing effect in C. Freitag's "Stormy Day Off the Lignizing." Peasic Curtus "Ever Watching" (53) is a fine little ligner in L. W. Pigott's "Cap of Tea" (66). W. Paper's "The Tramp" (67) is good. Miss Oakey's "Fage" (68) is a fine little ligner in L. W. Pigott's "Cap of Tea" (68). W. Fabor's "The Tramp" (67) is good. The "April Days" (88) of S. G. McJanceon is charming.

"July Storm" (72), by J. F. Murpny, is one of the best things in the gallery and a boid study of black and white in oil. There is good atmosphere, fine light triking on the wheat sheaves in the foreground and a trong treatment of the dark masses of the storm-iwayed trees. "Stanshine" (75), is a pleasing J. Lauber. There is one good cowin George Inness, Jr. Sin study, "At the Pool" (77). W. H. Snetion's "Worn Dut Travellers" is excellent. Miss Fery's "Horse" (81) is a fine and subject, "The Alarm," we note F. Vance's emusing (92), W. Taber's creditable (93). There is a fleasing and subject, "Fine Alarm," we note F.

iul, especially in the first, a masterly effect in India ink washes. There is excellent work in George Inness' "In the Woods" (192). We notice A. T. Bricher's well drawn "Salisbury Boach, Morning" (193), and Alired Kappes' "Scandal" (194), an excellent character sketch in a village store. J. Wells Champney's "Hotel Plazza" (195), has two excellent Epures. There is a good effect in George F. Shelton's "the Plough Team," and, munity, there is good action in H. Van Ingon's "Landscape and Horses" (202). The collection will be sold at the galleries on Thursday and Friday evenings.

AN AUSTRIAN FRIGATE.

The Austrian frigate Dandolo, Captain Joseph Lang. which left Philadelphia on Friday last for this port, prived here vesterday, exchanged salutes as it put Fovernor's Island and anchored off pier No. 1 North River. The frigate carries twelve gaus, has a complement of 275 officers and men and has on board a number of cadets. She left Pola, Austria, some months ago, made a short stay at Guraliar and thence sailed for Brazil, stopping at Persambuco, Babia and Barbados. Since then she has cruised off the coast of BURGLARY IN LOWER BROADWAY.

Mr. C. Silva, eigar importer, of No. 29 Broadway, locked up his business establishment, at rooms Nos. 14 and 15 in the building No. 29 Broadway, about five o'clock Saturday afternoon. He returned yesterday morning, about sine o'clock, found the padiock and soit forced off one of the doors, the door open, and about $600 worth of cigars missing. Mr. Silva made inquiry of the janitor and others connected with the building as to whether they had seen any person or persons around his rooms on Saturday night or furing Sunday, but failed to get any information leading to any satisfactory result. He made application to the police of the Twenty-aeventh preclinet, and they promised to investigate the matter. Mr. Silva complains that this as the fourth time that his places of business has been broken into and robbed. A SWIM FOR FREEDOM.

Officer Shaw, of the Twenty-seventh precinct, no ticed early yesterday morning, while on pier No. 6, North River, two men leaving the pier in a small boat, carrying with them a large coll of rope. Their movements being suspicious he halled them, but it had the effect only of making them pull harder for the middle of the river. Jumping in another boat the policeman started in pursuit and rapidly gained on them. As he came nigh one of the men jumped into the river and becan swimming for the pier. The officer continued siter the boat, feeling confident that the man in the water would be subsequently captured. He soon overtook the boat and made its occupant prisoner. A lew hours later his companion was found on shore and taken in custody. The prisoners gave the names of John Sullivan and George Finn. The police suspect them of being implicated in depresantions around the docks. The boat contained sixty leet of rope, valued at $25, supposed by the police to laye been stolen. The prisoners were taken before Judge Morgan at the Tombs Police Court and held for trail.

AN APRIL FOOL.

Rose Wolf charges Moses L. Goldman with having seceived her on the 1st of April, 1876. On that date, as alleged, he presented her with a certificate of marmage and a gold ring, claiming that this ceremony constituted an indissoluble marriage tie. The parties afterward occupied the relation of husband and wife, sishough they did not live together, Goldman telling Rose that his father was opposed to the marriage, subsequently a child was born. The girl about the same time claims to have found out that the giving of a marriage certificate and ring did not constitute a legal contract. She then suced for seduction and bronen of promisa, claiming damages to the amount of $2,500. Holitman was vesterday arrested by the Sheriff and released on formaning allequate bonds. He is a clerk in a Bowery crothing store, while Rose occupies her time as a domestic.

SOCIAL SCIENCE.

MEETING OF THE AMERICAN SOCIAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION-INTERESTING DISCUSSIONS ON VITAL OUESTIONS.

The American Social Science Association met this morning in Dexter Hall, the largest of the minor halls in the Music Hall building. After the reading of the annual report by Secretary Sanborn communications were read from Miss Frances Power Cobbe, of England, on vivisection, and from Mme. Dora D'Istria, of Italy, on the war spirit in Europe. Also communications from Switzerland, Holland, Spain and other countries on the study of social science therein. General Armstrong, of Virginia, sent a series of sanitary tracts designed for circulation among the freedmen, which were laid before the association. HOMES FOR THE PEOPLE.

In the afternoon session Professor W. T. Harris, of St. Louis, presided and delivered an address on education as affected by the division of labor and by emigration. This caused an animated debate in which Charles Reemelin, of Cincinnat, and Professor Pierce and Dr. Hoye, of New York, spoke at some length. Colonel George Ward Nichols, of Cincinnati, followed with an exhaustive paper on art education.

At the evening session Professor Pierce introduced General Pope, who read a paper on the Indian question. He reviewed the present Indian system and its results, and explained the method of making ireaties with the Indians and the purpose sought to be accomplished in treating with them. He showed the difficulties in the way of carrying out treaties after they are made, and why under the present system new treaties are necessary, while by their operations the Indians are being gradually annihilated and whites murdered. He gave the present Indian agents credit for better morals and character than their presencessors under the old system of appointment, but as they are mea unacquainted with Indians and Indian character, and ignorant of the character and habits of the frontier whites, he considers them incompetent to deal with either. Irdians were starved to death for want of supplies the government was bound by troaty to Iurulus and by the rapid depletion of the buffalo, which are killed by the hundreds of thousands yearly for their hides alone. He said it appears to be the only functions of the army stationed near the indian agencies to force the ladian to submit to suffering quietly and without disturbance, whether the necessity results from the deficiency of appropriations, bad management of the agent or actual rau. He attributed indian wars to the encroachment of whites and the maladministration of Indian agents, and considered the many the victim in these wars. His plan for the settlement of the difficulty is as Ioliows:—

First—That the Indian tribes now on the reservations along the frontier and such as it may be necessary hereafter so to place, be transferred to points her in the rear of navancing emigration and placed on reservations in populous districts where no hostility to the Indian is left and he is secure against want and protected from doing or suffering violence.

Second—That thus surrounded by good influences, and in a condition the most favorable to success, an honest and carnest effort be made to civilize him by teaching him the pursuits and renerations of civilized life, so that it capable of becoming a part of our population he may be absorbed among us and disappear as a distinct race in this country.

In the debate which followed Mr. Murray Shipley, of Clucinnatt, and others apoke.

The sessions of the Conference of Charities will be opened to-morrow with an address by Goverbor Bishop.

the transfer of the Indian supervision to the War Department.

LAURA JOYCE.

SUDDEN SUSPENSION OF THE LEGAL PROCEED-INGS IN TAYLOR VS. TAYLOR-JUDGE LORD ADVISES A PRIVATE SETTLEMENT - CAN THE PARTIES NOT LIVE TOGETHER AGAIN.

Boston, Mass., May 20, 1878.
The dramatis persona of the new version of "Evangeline" were prompt to report for rehearsal in the Supreme Court room, East Cambridge, this morning. Owing to a dilatoriness of the manager, Judge Lord, the curtain was not rung up till about a quarter be fore ten o'clock. The audience room was packed with an expectant crowd, many of whom were at the door before the room was thrown open. The usual delegation from Harvard College open. The usual delegation from Harvard College blocked up the doorways and aisles while a number of theatrical and literary people filled the passage ways out to the front stairs. Laura and her mother were in the front seat of the jury box, accompanied by their witnesses and retainers. "Tiny" (abort for Valentine) was as fresh and chipper as on Saturday; he was in earnest consultation with his counsel and paid but little attention to the crowd of curiosity paid but little attention to the crowd of curiosity sockers and lovers of soandal. Laura sat in a meditative mood, with her hand supporting her dimpled chin. Mrs. Meskell looked as unconcerned as if she was merely a spectator. Everybody seemed to be suber; not one of the performers showed signs of even feeling "jolly" or comfortable.

At a quarter to ten the "Court" came in. Judge Lord in measured terms addressed the counsel as follows:

Gentlemen—So far as the result of this case is concerned it is proper for me to say that, in my judgment, nothing has appeared here which shows en insuperable objection to an adjustment of the matter between the parties, either by condonation or by coming together again, between the parties interested, and I desire to make this suggestion for the consideration of the counsel. I should prefer to suspend the proceedings in the case until they have themselves ascertained whether it is worth while to go on and continue this litigation between the parties, when, so lar as I have been sale to see, I cannot see an insuperable objection to the parties still making an amicable adjustment between themselves in citare way, as I suggested, by condonation (which of course would be more astisfactory) or by the barties making as arrangement to leave the case at the disposition of the Court. If this meets the approbation of counsel I sloud be very happy to suspend proceedings for any length of time becassary for them to determine whether an amicable adjustment can be effected.

Both sides accepted the proposition as if it had mine whether an amicable adjustment can be effected.

Both sides accepted the proposition as if it had come as part of a preconcerted move of the lawyers. The matter was laid over till Thursday, and meanwhile efforts will be made to effect a compromise. It is not believed that they can be brought to live together again, although an arrangement may be made by which further intigation and scandal can be stopped. The crowd disperied with a disappointed look and leeling much as if they had paid their money and got cheated out of a good performance.

A WOUNDED MAN'S STORY.

A ring at the door bell of the German Hospital, corner of Seventy-seventh street and Fourth avenue, at three o'clock yesterday morning brought one of the attendants to the entrance, where he found a man lying unconscious on the pavement and covered with blood, which flowed profusely from a wound on his head. He was at once conveyed to a cot and examined by Dr. Wendt, the house physician, who found that the man had been wounded by a pistol bail, which had entered the region of the left temple and made its exit about an inon from the place of entry. When the patient recovered consciousness he informed Dr. Wendt that his name was flenry Bartel, a carpenter, and that he lived in Pough-keepsie. He appeared to be very reticent about his inluries, but finally stated that he was sitting on a rock, near the Boalevard, when he heard several pistol shots from behind, and afterward found that he was wounded. He was then assaulted by some unknown men, who robbed him of $25—all the money ne had. How he came to the hospital he could not tell.

Last right a young man, who said his name was Baitenhausen, called on Dr. Windt at the hospital and said that he had received a postal card in the handwriting of his father, who had been missing since Sunday morning, and signed with the name of Henry Bartel. which flowed profusely from a wound on his head,

Sunday morning, and signed with the name of Heary Barriel.

He was at once shown to the couch of Barriel and recognized him as his father, Henry Badenhausen, a gunsmith, who keeps a gun store at the corner of Thirty-ninth street and Third avenue, notwithstanding young Mr. Ballenhausen said that his lather did not live at Pougakeepsie and did not have the $25 in his pocket on Sunday, when he claims to have been shot and robted. Ballenhausen had been in the habit of carrying a smell pistol of the same calibre as the one which caused the wound on his head, and Mr. Badenhausen is inclined to the opinion that his partner inflicted the wound on his head himself, as he had been laboring under pecuniary troubles.

UNINTENTIONALLY INJURED.

Thomas Bernhard, of No. 350 West Forty-second street, was taken to the Fifty-seventh Street Court yesterday morning on a charge of shooting Patrick O'Keefe, aged ten, of No. 605 West Forty-seventh street. Mr. Bernhard, as was related in yesterday's HERALD, was on a steam yacht, foot of East Fortyseventh street, Sunday morning, with his family and a party of friends, when a crowd of roughs attempted a party of friends, when a crowd of roughs attempted to force their way on board. They were driven off, but returned again to the charge, the second time assaulting the party on board with atones and brickbats. Mrs. Bernhard was struck with a stone in the mouth. Mr. Bernhard pulled out a revolver to frighten them and it was accidentally discharged, the ball from which struck young O'Keclo, who was lying on a lumber pile some distance away, in the grein. The boy was removed to Believes Hospital, where he now lies in a somewhat critical condition, and Mr. Bernhard, on his return from his excession, delivered himself op. He was committed to await the rosult of injuries, and an szamination in the case will take place to-day.

ROWDYISM.

A gong of rowdies assembled early yesterday morning on the corner of Court and Lorraine streets, Brooklyn, when Patrolman Roche, of the Eleventh procinct, ordered them to "move on." As they refused to do so be arrested John Burke, one of the party. The prisoner broke away from the officer, and, picking up a stone, threw it at him. When and, picking up a stode, threw it at him. When the stone struck Roche the latter drow a revolver and fired one shot in the air, intending to frighten the rowdies, who threateningly gathered about him. Burke threw another stone a Roche. The latter thee fired a second shot and attracted the attention of Officers Travis and Breeden, who ran to his assistance. Burke, James Deoly and Michael Flyan were then taken into custody and locked no. Michael Flynn were the state of the followed up. Daniel Coombs, eighteen years old, was arrested yesterday by an officer of the Fourth precinct, Brooklyn, on a charge of striking James smith, aged thirty-five, on the head with a atone and fracturing his skull. The injury was inflicted during a general light that occurred on Park avenue on Sunday morning last.

STABBED DURING A QUARREL.

Frederick Henry, aged twenty years, had a quarrel yesterday afternoon with a young man named John Rooney, at No. 548 West Sixty-second street, where both parties reside, when Rooney drew a knile and stabbed Henry several times in the face and body. Rooney escaped, and Henry was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital. His wounds, though painful, are not dangerous.
